

FIFTH YEAR. LARGEST IN THE CITY. Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can afford to give his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes.

The Continued Calls upon this Ledger for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppliers, excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, read as follows: One cent per line, and for obituary notices, read as follows: One cent per line, and for obituary notices, read as follows: One cent per line.

Does Not Include notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes. Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for business notices in this Ledger is $5 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions.

All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

Feared He Had Blundered in the Marriage Service.

Chicago Post.

The clergyman was nervous. There could be no question about that. His duties were at an end, but he hung around the receiving party and his actions showed that he was in trouble. He appeared to be endeavoring to convince himself that everything was all right, but without success.

Finally he tapped the young man in knickerbockers on the shoulder and led him to one side.

"Pardon me," he said shifting uneasily from one foot to the other, "but there is a matter of some delicacy that I wish to speak to you about."

"Yes," returned the young man, inquiringly.

"Yes," replied the clergyman. "I trust you will take no offense. It is a trifle unusual, but—"

"Was the wedding fee too small?" asked the young man, as the clergyman hesitated.

"Not at all, not at all," returned the clergyman promptly. "You see, the fact of the matter is that at the last minute I became somewhat confused—bewildered, as it were, by the novelty of the situation—and I would like to be assured that I got everything all right."

"Why, of course you did."

"When it came to the question of love, honor and obey, you know, I was afraid I—"

The clergyman paused for a minute and then he blurted out: "You're the groom, aren't you?"

"Certainly."

"Then it's all right, and you have no idea how that relieves me. You see, I have never officiated at one of these blundering weddings before and I was afraid I might have made a mistake."

OLD BUT EVER NEW.

Story Good Enough to Bear Retelling at Any Time.

Weekly Telegraph.

There is an old story, but a good one, of two painters who were employed to fresco the walls of a cathedral, and both stood on a rough scaffolding constructed for the purpose some forty feet from the floor. One of them was so intent upon his work that he became wholly absorbed, and in admiration stepped back from the picture, gazing at it with intense delight.

Forgetting where he was, he moved still further back, surveying the work of his brush, until he had neared the edge of the plank upon which he stood.

At the critical moment his companion turned suddenly and, almost frozen with horror, beheld his imminent peril. Another instant and the artist would be precipitated upon the pavement beneath.

If he spoke to him it was certain death; if he held his peace, death was equally sure. Suddenly he regained his presence of mind, and, seizing a wet brush he lunged against the wall, splattering the beautiful picture with unsightly blotches of coloring. The painter flew forward and turned upon his friend with fierce upbraiding, but, startled at his ghastly face, he listened to his recital of danger, looking shudderingly over the dread space below, and, with tears of gratitude, blessed the hand that saved his life.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WE'RE FOR AMERICA! AMERICANS!

"Advance Agent of Prosperity."

Our Next President.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY of Ohio.

Vice-President.
GARRETT A. HOBART of New Jersey.

Is the National Platform isn't broad enough and sound enough for every Republican to stand upon, we'd like to see one that would be.

MARK THIS: The free coinage of silver epidemic will carry its victims to the political graveyard just as the Greenback and "gray baby" pestilence did.

"The crime of '73" is a favorite cry with the free silver coinage lunatics. If they have their way future generations will have good cause to speak of the "crime of '90."

WHAT'S the matter with the mine owners of Michigan demanding the free and unlimited coinage of copper? It's one of the metals of which United States money is made.

EDITORS of the British newspapers do not seem to take a fancy to Major McKinley—Louisville Times.

Of course not; they know that he is the friend of America. Your Britisher has no use for a man who is not in favor of shutting up American factories for the benefit of English factories.

Is every man and woman in Mayville would go to Cincinnati to buy their groceries, clothing and other family supplies, they would only be carrying out the principles of Democratic Free-trade, which demands that every American shall buy goods made in Europe in preference to those made at home.

HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE has now gone and done and did it sure enough. From now henceforth forever and a day or two longer his name is Denial Anathema. He has actually appointed a Republican to a Special Agency of the Treasury Department, and the appointee a Kentucky Republican at that!

CERTAIN Democratic orators and newspapers, when advocating a Tariff "for revenue only" often refer to that of 1846 as a model. The latter was based on a report (1845) of ROBERT J. WALKER, Secretary of the Treasury under President POLK. That report was characterized by The London Times as being "the only Free-trade document ever presented to Congress by an American Minister of Finance." The Free-trade enthusiasts of today ignore, and no doubt for a purpose, the many influences which, during the time this Tariff was in force, promoted great business activity, though meanwhile our industries that competed with the foreign were being gradually ruined.

For illustration: The Mexican War began in the same year (February, 1846). This, says the American Economist, gave an immense impulse to business. The Government issued $100,000,000 Treasury notes, which passed current in commercial transactions. The volunteers left vacancies in the workshops that were filled by others at enhanced wages. Then came the discovery of gold in California (1848), and that gave a still greater impulse to business. Seventy-four thousand men were sent to California in 1849, and there were short crops in Europe (1847-48) on account of which an immense amount of grain was exported to Europe. Then came the Crimean War (1854-56), and the exports of grain continued.

This Tariff was in operation about fifteen years; but the Free-traders don't tell us that it left the Government in debt $87,700,000, and "that the country was flooded with cheaper made foreign goods," that our own mechanical industries were virtually ruined, and when the financial crash came in 1857 the balance of trade was against us to the amount of $335,000,000 because it was a Tariff on a sliding scale, with lower and lower duties, that culminated almost in absolute Free-trade.

ALREADY some of the Democratic papers, which are ever ready to manage affairs for the Republican party without ability to direct matters in their own camp, have "booked" Colonel SAM. ROBERTS of Lexington for the Collectorship of this District when MCKINLEY is made President. Well, Mr. ROBERTS is a modest gentleman, and that place might be entirely to his liking, but THE LEDGER hopes to see him more highly honored. He is one man who deserves a front seat in the Tabernacle, and he is qualified to grace any position to which he may aspire.

Hereditary Alcoholism. A German case that resembles that of the famous Jukes family has recently been reported by Professor Pellman of Bonn, who has traced the careers of 709 of the 834 known descendants of a German woman, a drunkard and a thief, who was born in 1740. Of her descendants 106 were born out of wedlock, 308 were professional beggars, 181 were women, 76—including seven murderers—got into jail; in 75 years these persons have cost the state more than $1,300,000. Professor Pellman has gathered these statistics to prove the injurious effects of alcohol, but they seem to show that it does not diminish faculty, and that the proportion of children reaching maturity is far above the average.

IN HIS REPORT

To the President on Cuban Affairs Consul General Lee

Gives a Strong Hint That Recognition of the Cubans is Necessary.

His Document, Which is of the Greatest Importance to the United States and Spain, Will Reach Washington Some Time During This Week.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A dispatch from Havana says that Consul General Lee has forwarded to President Cleveland on Saturday dispatches of the most importance. They should reach the president and Secretary Olney early in the coming week. The dispatches contain the full reports of the consul general upon the Cuban situation and are of extremely sensational character.

In the dispatches there are two quite distinct documents, the one wholly confidential and for the personal information of President Cleveland, the other a frank exploitation of the situation in the island at this time. With the greatest respect, the representative of the United States in Havana describes the existing condition of affairs in Cuba.

His document is of tremendous importance to the United States and to Spain. So strong is it, in fact, that its contents may, it is hinted, be made the basis of an intervention in Cuban affairs on the part of the administration at Washington immediately.

The report contains information particularly designed for the department of state, and which will be presented to Secretary Olney, is a complete and impartial review of the condition of the island. It is a complete and impartial review of the condition of the island. It is a complete and impartial review of the condition of the island.

Consul General Lee takes the ground that the only possible solution of the Cuban problem is to stay the hand of the rebellion on the island. He says that the rebellion is a bloodthirsty and a diabolical which are at present making a diabolical of one of the fairest portions of the earth's surface.

"Even this remedy," the consul general informs President Cleveland and Secretary Olney, "is at this time, in the course of the rebellion the Cuban revolutionists might, perhaps, have welcomed any intervention as well as our friends in a party of peculiar respectability in the island. But at present this party has lost its hold in a great measure, and as for the patriots and their friends, their watchwords are now unconditional surrender on the part of Spain and a free republic in Cuba."

Consul General Lee finds that the Spanish government has in many instances been extremely imprudent in its efforts to protect either the lives of foreigners resident in the island or their property.

He gives a general hint, finally, that unless this danger to foreign residents can be avoided the recognition of the independence of the Cuban revolutionists will soon become advisable.

HAVANA, June 23.—United States Consul Lee, when asked regarding the independence of the Cuban revolutionists, a report to President Cleveland on the Cuban situation, denies absolutely that he has sent any report on this subject.
